Study Abroad Approval to Apply to ISDSI

Dear Colleague:

The student below is applying to the Sustainable Development Studies program at the International Sustainable Development Studies Institute in Thailand. The SDS program is an experiential, cross-cultural study abroad program which focuses on the links between culture, ecology, and sustainability through the study of specific places and their human communities and ecosystems. (More information is available at isdsi.org.)

In order to ensure that our students keep their campus study abroad office in the loop, as well as fulfill any requirements from their home institution for study abroad, we ask them to meet with their study abroad advisor.

Please provide the information below and return the signed form directly to admissions@isdsi.org.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Mark A. Ritchie, Ph.D.
